From the Chancellor

I am grateful to the editors of the Garnet '66 for the opportunity to extend a message to the graduating class and to the student body. Perhaps on an occasion such as this I should extoll the value of hard work, the diligent practice of the four cardinal virtues or some other such good advice.

I will, however, avoid platitudes and emphasize that we are living in the most exciting era the world has ever known. To quote from my installation address last September:—"Present trends indicate more changes in how men live and work will occur in the next 35 years than were produced in all previous history." Thrilling and challenging days lie ahead for all of us.

You who have enjoyed the experience of university education at Sir George Williams can be assured opportunity for advancement in your chosen spheres of activity. You will profit from up-to-date knowledge, the benefits of a fine university spirit, and high ideals of citizenship. I wish you every success in your endeavors.

F. F. FULTON

Chancellor. Chairman, Board of Governors.

From the Principal

It has been another exciting year in our history marked by continued development and growth in our scholarly and co-curricular activities. I have noted with great interest and appreciation the many fine programmes conducted by student organizations. This assures me that many able and competant people have had an opportunity to develop leadership skills and abilities. I offer my congratulations and appreciation to all of those who have enriched our community life by their worthy endeavours.

"An educated person is one who is continually at work on his own enlargement" is a statement attributed to Robert Refield. One can be sure that many Georgians have increased in stature by their participation in worthy cocurricular activities. It is to be hoped that those who have accomplished such achievements and shown such promise will continue to develop and grow. If so, our society will be that much better for their further contributions.

I extend my very best wishes to all members of this community for a full life of happiness, satisfaction and accomplishment.

Participation in athletics is an important part of a student's life while attending university. Lasting friendships and experiences result from team sports as well as individual participation. University athletics means varsity teams to the average student, however, there is an active and varied intramural and recreational programme for all student.

Georgians have again represented themselves well and have established another excellent record in the 1965-1966 academic year.

I offer my sincere congratulations to the competitors, coaches and managers for the excellent achievement.

A. Douglas Insleay.

Alumni Executive Director

The Association of the Alumni was organized by the first graduating class of the University in 1937, to perpetuate the fellowship established, to preserve an interest in education and to work extramurally for the University. Each University undergraduate becomes a member upon graduation. The association publishes a quarterly Magazine—"The Postgrad"—which is mailed to all members, and is always ready to give assistance or advice to any undergraduate or graduate.

John Ferguson B.A. '50 became the first Executive Director of the Association in 1961. He is very anxious to keep in touch with all graduates and keep them informed about the University and Alumni events and also to be kept informed about them.

In 1961, the Association of Alumni, in cooperation with the University and the Student Societies inaugurated an annual series of guest lectures by outstanding men of our time in memory of the late Dr. Kenneth E. Norris, principal of Sir George from 1936 to 1956.

THE OFFICE OF THE DEAN OF STUDENTS

The Office of the Dean of Students encompasses many areas of responsibility which reflect the university interest and concern for the personal growth, health and educational environment of the student. Each day, more than seventy-five students pass through the office on matters related to athletics, financial aid, overseas programmes, housing, medical services or to discuss a personal problem.

An important area of responsibility, shared with all members of the university community, is a sensitivity to the attitudes and needs of the student body in this age of ferment and change. A continuing programme of research and examination is essential if the university is to meet the challenges presented by the changing social scene, and the increasing student enrollment.

EVENING STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION

The Evening Students' association was reactivated this year with plans for a busy and productive year. Among the extra-cirrcular events, the E.S.A. crowned Felicity Della Pergola—Evening Queen at the Christmas Prom. Ron Klien the Extra-cirrcular Chairman was planning the Spring Prom with the S.U.S. Social Chairman at Press time.

The Evening Students' Association brought Sir George laurels at the International Association of Evening Students. Sir George Evening Division has been, delegated to stimulate interest among Canadian universities since Sir George was the only Canadian university in attendence.

This Association has a large responsibility delegated to them. They handle all their internal and external publicity, a new constitution is being written and depth studies are being made about Evening student life and needs while in university.

ARTS FACULTY ASSOCIATION

The aim of this year's Arts Faculty Association was to promote a series of co-curricular events which would be of educational as well as entertaining benefit to all students of the university.

With this as their goal, the A.F.A. presented an open forum on the roll of the student in l'Union Generale des Etudiants de Quebec (U.G.E.Q.). President Block also instituted a Faculty Auction, which netted several hundred dollars toward the Student Union Fund.

As well, the Association presented their annual Art Exhibition and International Film Festival. But, aside from renewing themes from the previous year, the A.F.A. brought back the uproarious faculty debates and presented new programs such as a series of selected seminars with visiting professors attending and a continuing program of prose and poetry readings in conjunction with the university's poet-in-residence. At press time M. David Neuman, Seminar Director, of the Arts Faculty was, planning a seminar for discussion of the current events in the Arts field.

Under the dynamic leadership of Joe Spronck and his executive, the Engineering Association turned out to have its biggest year yet.

The Engineering Association launched its year with the "Poopdeck Ball", which was held on board of La Madelon II. After that event it was smooth sailing for the Association as it presented speakers from I.B.M., the Bedford Institute of Oceanography, C.A.E. Industries Limited, and Hydro Quebec. Tours were organized to Caterpillar, Bell Telephone Co., Dominion Engineering, Alcan (Shawinigan), and some highlights of the year were the Smoker (Beer Bash), Papers' Night, exhibits in Science Week, the winning of the Bloody Georgian and the McGill Trophy for best exhibit at the Plumber's Ball. This year saw also the organization of a popular newsletter "the Bogge", edited by Les Zoltan.

With the precedent set this it is hoped that the Engineering Association will grow even more with the move to the Henry F. Hall building.

GEORGIAN

The Georgian is the voice of the students on campus. In the past it has functioned as a weekly paper devoted to informing the students of forthcoming activities that have taken place. It also serves to inform the students on other concerning events on other Canadian Campuses. The features section endeavours to give the students an idea of the cultural activities in the University and in Montreal.

Major changes in the Georgian this year include increased circulation to the Evening Students. As well, in the second term the newspaper became a twice weekly publication.

ENGINEERING

Office of the Dean, Faculty of Engineering, March 23, 1966.

The Certificate in the Engineering Class of 1966 represents a change from the pattern established with the first class in 1959. This is the first year in which students completing Engineering III will proceed to Engineering IV at Sir George Williams rather than at any other universities. In consequence, the Certificate in Engineering will henceforth be granted only to Evening Division students who have satisfactorily completed the work of Third Year Engineering but who, for one reason or another choose not to continue into Fourth Year Engineering in the Day Division.

The first group of Bachelor of Engineering graduates will appear in Garnet '68.

VALEDICTORY ADDRESS

Valedictorian, Henri Roy

"In addition to our professors, we are also indebted to our parents and loved ones whose assistance, patience, and perseverance have contributed immeasurably to the success of our economic endeavours. All this—in spite of our shortcomings and our seeming ingratitude. We hope that this night will, in some way, compensate for their understanding and support as we see our dreams, and theirs, become a reality.

La croissance et le progrès de l'Université Sir George Williams imposent certains inconvénients que nous supportons allègrement, pour le bien du plus grande nombre. Dans une université telle qu'est devenue la nôtre, il est plus difficile de nous affirmer individuellement et d'entretenir des relations personelles avec tous nos professeurs. Ceci nous permet cependant de développer notre sens de responsabilité et notre initiative, deux atouts indispensables pour l'avenir."

"Today in Canada, and particularly in Quebec, we are witnessing the parallel growth of two distinct cultures. The languages, traditions, and cultural heritages are different but the dreams of the people, their aspirations and their needs as human beings are essentially the same. What common interests do we have? We want to eliminate poverty. We are united in wanting a better standard of living. We want more and more education. We want an expression of mutual respect. A duality exists, but we must make a choice. We must minimize those things which divide us and emphasize those things which unite us. Either we undertake constructive steps to achieve a greater understanding and appreciation of our differences or we can let these differences blind us to our common heritage as Quebecquers, as Canadians, but most of all—AS A NATION.

Only as education replaces ignorance, as love replaces hate, and as the national interests replace regional interests can we achieve these goals for both our cultures. This, of course, will take time and require individual initiative and effort. But we must start now. It is up to us to set the example for this generation and those to follow."

"La poursuite de buts communs, la camaraderie et la collaboration constante entre représentants des deux groupes ont changé les préjugés en amitié et la crainte en confiance. Au terme de notre séjour à l'Université Sir George Williams nous ne pouvons que souhaiter la même expérience à tous ceux qui, à cause de l'existence d'une autre langue, voient leurs ambitions limitées. Chez nous le travail est le seul critère de succès et, comme vous le savez, l'effort lui-même ne s'exprime ni en français ni en anglais."

What price education?

It is beyond price! Education cannot be bought, borrowed, or inherited. The only way to obtain it, is to earn it. Stelco recognizes its value, and the increasing need for it, in today's highly-competitive atmosphere ... and also recognizes that specialized education is denied to many deserving young Canadians through lack of funds. This is why Stelco sponsors a program of assistance to universities, technical schools, and students across Canada, by providing awards, scholarships and bursaries in Technology, Engineering, Science, Business Administration, Teaching, Commerce, and Finance.

For further information on this program, or on a career in steel, write to Stelco's Head office in Hamilton, Ontario.
